COUNCIL ARRANGES FOR A HEARING ON PAVING

Original Estimate of Cost of Second Street Improvement Too Low by 40 Cents a Foot.

Property owners interested in the South Second street paving will have a hearing before the council May 25.
 City Engineer James N. Gladding reported to the aldermen last night that his first report on the cost of the improvement was incorrect. According to the resolution providing for the hearing of original estimate the cost of the improvement was 40 cents less a foot than the correct figure.

Mr. Gladding's report last night estimated the cost of the pavement at $6,250. According to this report the boundary of the assessment district is "along Second street from its intersection of the north line of Silver avenue to its intersection with the north line of Coal avenue."

At Councilman Ivan Grunsfeld's suggestion at last night's meeting the city clerk's bond was raised from $2,000 to $10,000. When the smaller bond was fixed, years ago, the clerk handled much less money than goes through his hands now. According to City Treasurer William C. Kiecke the clerk now takes in from $1,200 to $3,000 a month.

Quarterly bills amounting to $16,- 000 were ordered paid. A bill for 1,000 feet of hose, amounting to $858, was also ordered paid.

Fire Chief Jacob Kilen filed an inventory of city property in the department. Its value is $17,612.
 Other inventories will be filed at the meeting to be held next Monday night.

The West Copper avenue curbing ordinance was passed finally under a suspension of rules. The mayor and clerk are authorized to sign the contract.

Sheep raisers are to have one of the best years on record, according to Frank Hubbell, who has just returned from his ranges in the Mogollons in Socorro county.

"I never saw the ranges in better have a lamb crop of about 55 per cent."

"Wool prices are high and the clip will be the biggest in half a dozen years or more. The sheep raisers are feeling mighty good over the general outlook."

Mr. Hubbell will return to the range about April 20 with 55 more
